

blue routes

along this routes art is accessible, and easy to find. no special preparations required.

red routes

those routes are for those who are ready to give more of them in order to find the works. art is placed in spots either hard to access, considered as less safe or just more difficult to find.

difficult spots *

there is a number of pieces of art located in most dangerous areas or places. If You want to discover them you must show almost as much passion and devotion as artists who did them.

* warning. The MAKART team does not take any responsibility in case of injuries, loss of possession or any other unwanted events that may occur in the yellow areas.

The MAKROART project is an international enterprise which goal is to create an open space gallery of contemporary art from all around the world. To achieve that an international communication network between artists was created.

And so we present You MAKROART international Art Chart project. 96 artists, both students and professors, painters, sculptors, architects, graphic designers and poets work together in order to give You one of the biggest contemporary art museum. The first real street museum. How long it will last is up to You - people who will coexist in the space together with art.

We want to express our gratitude to artist without whom the MAKROART museum could not exist. They cooperated with us only because they wanted to share their art as a gift. Appreciate them as we do.

Athens are just the beginning. More exhibitions of MAKROART will take place in cities around Europe and world.
